DIAMOND PROVIDER SETS NEW STANDARD FOR VERSATILITY

EUGENE, Ore. – Diamond Archery introduces the Provider, the new standard in versatility for the bowhunter on a budget. Extremely adjustable and ready to shoot right out of the box, the Provider is the perfect bow for everyone from the first-time shooter to the experienced archer.

“Diamond Archery delivers unmatched performance and value, and the Provider adds incredible versatility to the mix,” said Jeff Suiter of Diamond Marketing. “We leave our competitors in the dust with this one, offering draw weight and draw length ranges that make this bow perfect for any archer at a price that works for every budget.”

The Provider measures 31 inches from axle to axle and has a 7.5-inch brace height. The draw length adjusts from 25.5-inches to 31 inches and the draw weight can be set between 20 and 70 pounds. With a total weight of just 3.3 pounds, the Provider is incredibly lightweight, yet can still fire arrows at speeds up to 310 fps.
