EXCALIBUR GRZ 2 OFFERS RUGGED RELIABILITY

Kitchener, Ontario, Canada – Excalibur Crossbow has combined its legendary design with cutting-edge technology to produce the GRZ 2, the most rugged and reliable crossbow in its class. Designed for hunting any type of game in any conditions, the GRZ 2 is compact, lightweight and capable of firing bolts at speeds up to 305 fps.

“Simply put, the GRZ 2 is a crossbow you can trust,” said Michael Martin, marketing specialist for Excalibur. “We built the GRZ 2 to achieve maximum durability and reliability, then we added our latest performance and safety technologies to produce a crossbow that is truly too good to pass up.”

SPECIFICATIONS

Power Stroke:	11.2 Inches	Draw Weight:	200 lbs.
Overall Length:	33.25 Inches	Width Uncocked	30.5 Inches
Weight:	5.5 lbs.	MSRP:	$549

The GRZ 2 is packed with features including Excalibur’s PowerLoad Limbs, which are 60 percent stronger than the most durable limbs available today, and the Quad-Loc Riser, which secures each limb on all four sides for added consistency and accuracy. The GRZ 2 also features the lightweight and compact Feather-Lite Skeletonized Stock, which offers unmatched control and feel with every shot. High-performance, long-lasting Matrix strings are included to improve speed and reduce creep.

The full complement of accessories offered with the GRZ 2 includes a lightweight and compact four-arrow quiver and bracket along with a compact fixed power scope featuring a multi-ranged reticle design, a 1-inch tube, multi-coated lens for clarity and half-inch click adjustments at 20 yards. The GRZ 2 also comes equipped with three 18-inch Diablo carbon arrows with front-of-center weight distribution for accuracy and flatback inserts for reliable string contact. The package is completed with a rope cocking aid and three 150-grain field points.

Available with a tactical black stock and Realtree Xtra® limbs, the GRZ 2 has a suggested retail price of $549.
